Meet the Hi-Can Bed, the brainchild of Edoardo Carlini from Think Future Design. The Hi-Can Bed is a design masterpiece that seamlessly combines the best in comfort and state-of-the-art technology - to reinvent your bedroom experience. Welcome to the innovative concept in comfort.

Hi-Can stands for High fidelity Canopy, suggesting a new and contemporary interpretation of the canopy bed that recreates our most intimate and protective space inside the bedroom. Crossing the traditional boundaries of furniture, the Hi-Can features a built in computer, console game, video, home-theatre system as well as a built in home automation system that allows the bed to interact with smart appliances in the room. Owners will find themselves immersed in sound, surrounded by scenic images and a pleasing atmosphere that sweep them away into technological bliss.

Welcome to the future and boy is it looking peaceful! For more information or to order the Hi-Can bed, please visit www.hi-can.com.
